

Item Descriptions

As a narrative designer on AdventureQuest 3D, I wrote descriptions for hundreds of items. Here are a few of my favorites:

Set Name	Item Type	Description
Cacti Knight
	Chest Armor	A hero to many, and a foe to others, the Cacti Knight fears nothing, not even the most potent herbicides!
	Belt	If you stand really, really still, you might fool someone into believing you're a real cactus.
	Boots	Cacti boots are a great way to root yourself into a defensive stance.
	Cape	This floral cape will aid you in your defense and leave you smelling springtime fresh.
	Gloves	Exposure to the harsh elements of the Sandsea Desert makes this armor sturdier than steel.
	Helm	The Cacti Knight's intimidating stare can make anyone tremble, even the bravest and most experienced of gardeners.
	Shoulder Plates	These shoulders offer great protection... so long as you're careful with all the pointy bits.
	Weapon - Kanabo	Think of this as nature's all-natural spiked bat and swing for the fences!
	Knights of Radiance
	Chest Armor	Behold the glassworks pattern adorned by the Knights of Radiance, a collective whose inner strength derives from the Radiant Star.
	Belt	Day and night, the luminous glow of the Radiant Star shines down upon Lore.
	Boots	May the Radiant Star guide your way.
	Gloves	The Knights of Radiance persevere to keep the darkness at bay.
	Helm	A knight recites their vow to the Radiant Star every time before putting on their helm.
	Shield	Depictions of the Radiant Star often resemble a flower, symbolizing how life blooms from the Star's light.
	Shoulders	No matter the threats lurking in the shadows, the Knights of Radiance will cast them out.
Weapon: Hammer	Only the most devout followers of the Radiant Star may wield this hammer.
Oni Syndicate
	Chest Armor	Let all onlookers know that you are part of the Oni Syndicate -- a cutthroat outfit with a growing influence across all of Lore.
	Belt	In life-or-death moments, your blades may be the only things you can count on, so keep them close.
	Boots	These boots were made for kicking down doors and stomping out the competition, and that's just what they'll do.
	Gloves	Not even the Battleon Defenders can loosen the Oni Syndicate's grasp on the territory they've claimed.
	Mask	Don the crimson mask of the indomitable Oni Syndicate -- Lore's latest menace.
	Shoulders	Spaulders are a sign of status among the Oni Syndicate. This particular set conveys that the wearer is an expert at getting their hands dirty.
	Weapon: Katana	They say the Oni Syndicate Katana can't be sheathed until it's tasted blood. They also say that it's developed quite the appetite.
SuperSleuth
	Chest Armor	To be a great detective, one must carry themselves with an air of intellect, resilience, and of course, style!
	Belt	All great detectives sport a utility belt loaded with gadgets for solving crimes.
	Boots	It takes a surefooted gumshoe to chase down clues in these parts. Good thing these boots are up for the job.
	Gloves	Great for handling clues in a crime scene and throwing up your dukes against local hooligans.
	Hat	Only a true detective can pull off a hat like this!
	Shoulders	The weather can get rough while you're out hunting for clues. So it's best to bring a coat, particularly one that looks cool when draped along your shoulders.
	Weapon: Magnifying Glass	No detail too small will go unseen with this giant magnifying glass.
